

Burgess Yachts: Leading the Way in Private Yachting

For over 45 years, Burgess has been synonymous with excellence, exclusivity, and impeccable service in the yachting industry, evolving from a single visionary in 1975 to a global leader in the sale, purchase, charter, and management of superyachts. With a fleet of some of the world's most spectacular yachts and a client-first approach, Burgess Yachts has earned its place as the go-to partner for discerning travellers who seek both luxury and privacy on the high seas.

Burgess Yachts was founded with a simple mission: to provide unparalleled service in the world of luxury yachting. Since then, the company has evolved into the world's largest full-service superyacht brokerage. With 16 offices strategically located across major yachting hubs worldwide, including Monaco, Miami, London, and Hong Kong, Burgess ensures its clients have access to the most desirable yachting destinations and vessels in the world.

"Burgess Yachts has grown from a single individual pioneering yacht sales to a global company that dominates the superyacht industry," notes Alex Guy, Charter Broker at Burgess Yachts. "Our continued success is built on our unwavering commitment to client satisfaction and our ability to deliver extraordinary experiences tailored to individual needs."

In a world where privacy has become the ultimate desire, Burgess Yachts delivers an experience unmatched by traditional luxury travel. Their global fleet of over 30-meter superyachts offers the perfect balance between complete seclusion and the highest standards of opulence. Whether it's a family looking for an exclusive holiday away from the spotlight, or high-profile individuals seeking a discreet getaway, Burgess ensures a safe, serene, and secure escape.

Do Not Disturb

“Luxury yachting is the ultimate form of private travel, unlike hotels or private villas, a yacht offers unparalleled freedom and privacy. You can wake up in a different, stunning location every day while enjoying the comforts onboard.”

Every journey is carefully curated to match the preferences and desires of the client, ensuring that no two experiences are alike. “Our fleet of yachts offers endless possibilities,” Alex continues. “Whether it's cruising the secluded bays of the Caribbean or exploring remote corners of the Antarctic, our yachts allow clients to travel far beyond the typical tourist routes, enjoying their vacation in the ultimate privacy and luxury.”

Burgess Yachts stands apart in the private travel market, not just for its stunning fleet of yachts but also for its client-centric approach to service. With more than 800 charters booked annually and a fleet that includes some of the most iconic vessels in the yachting world, Burgess has dominated the luxury yacht charter market. Their team of brokers, spread across their global network, collaborates to deliver a level of expertise, insight, and service that is unparalleled in the industry.

“Our clients return year after year because they trust our ability to deliver flawless charters, we take the time to get to know each of our clients personally, building relationships that go beyond a simple transaction. We understand what they want from a private travel experience and ensure that every yacht, itinerary, and onboard experience is perfectly tailored to their tastes.”

The company’s extensive global network allows it to offer local expertise in every major yachting destination, providing clients with insider knowledge on the best spots to explore, dine, or relax—all while maintaining the utmost discretion.

“We have a presence in all the world’s most exclusive yachting hubs, and that makes all the difference, from Porto Cervo to St. Barts, we offer clients more than just a yacht—we provide them with access to a global network of luxury travel experts.”

Do Not Disturb

As private travel continues to evolve, clients are looking for more than just the classic luxury destinations; they want rare experiences, seclusion, and exclusivity in new and untouched places. This is where Burgess Yachts excels. With access to the latest explorer yachts, Burgess is leading the charge in offering private travel experiences that combine the best of both worlds.

“We’ve seen a growing demand for adventure travel among our clients,” explains the Burgess team. “More and more people are looking to explore destinations like the South Pacific, Antarctica, and the Indian Ocean, where privacy and seclusion are guaranteed.”

“These unique destinations are now more accessible than ever, thanks to our fleet of explorer yachts, which are specially designed for long-range travel,” they continue. “For clients looking for a truly once-in-a-lifetime journey, we offer everything from polar expeditions to private island-hopping in the South Pacific.”

As Burgess Yachts continues to expand, it remains committed to staying ahead of trends in private travel. The company’s forward-thinking approach includes innovative partnerships and new services that enhance the client experience. One such development is the opening of a new office in Palm Beach, a critical yachting hub, which strengthens their presence in the Americas.

“We’re excited about our expansion into new markets and developing new offerings for our clients,” the representative says. “For example, we’ve recently added a wine procurement service for charter guests, providing them with a curated selection of fine wines to enjoy during their voyage.”

Burgess is also returning to Aspen, Colorado, ensuring that their clients have access to the company’s services, even in non-traditional yachting locations. “This expansion into unique locations like Aspen demonstrates our commitment to ensuring clients can engage with us anywhere in the world, even when they’re far from the oceans,” Alex explains.

With a strong emphasis on client satisfaction, bespoke experiences, and a forward-thinking approach to adventure and exploration, Burgess Yachts is not just a leader in yachting; it is a leader in private travel.

Partnering with Burgess Yachts offers an unbeatable proposition. With their extensive fleet, expert brokers, and global presence, Burgess Yachts provides not only seamless and exceptional service but also market-leading expertise in luxury yacht charters. Their unmatched reputation for excellence ensures that clients will experience the very best in private travel.

“At Burgess, it’s about more than just the yachts. It’s about delivering unforgettable experiences, ensuring every client feels valued, and creating memories that will last a lifetime,” concludes Alex.

With their deep knowledge of the yachting world and the ever-evolving landscape of private travel, Burgess Yachts is set to continue leading the charge in the luxury private travel market.

